TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 11.—Death in the electric chair, another temporary respite from death accompanied by its torturing uncertainties, or life imprisonment.

From these three choices the New Jersey court of pardons, meeting today to decide the fate of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, will select the fate of the condemned murderer of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr.

Jafsie In Flight
As the court, composed of eight members and headed by youthful Governor Harold G. Hoffman, assembled to make its momentous decision the Hauptmann case was in a welter of the reater confusion, mystery and sensational developments than at any time since the Bronx carpenter's arrest.

Dr. John F. (Jafsie) Condon, the elderly eccentric whose testimony did the most to doom Hauptmann to the chair, was in virtual flight as the court convened.

With his daughter, Myra Hacker, he was on the S. S. Santa Rita bound for Latin America, and an ever-widening strip of ocean separated him from the scene of the deliberations here.

Condon sailed from New York last night shortly before Hoffman disclosed that he intended to have him brought before the court for examination.

On Leisurely Tour
New York, Jan. 11.—The Grace Liner Santa Rita, on board which Dr. John F. (Jafsie) Condon is now at sea for a leisurely tour of Latin America, will first touch port at Cristobal, Canal Zone, on the morning of Jan. 17, the day on which Bruno Richard Hauptmann is scheduled to die in the electric chair.

Gov. Harold G. Hoffman's threat to have Dr. Condon taken into custody could be carried out by Canal authorities or even by the captain of the ship.

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Bruno Richard Hauptmann will positively die in the electric chair, despite all efforts of Governor Hoffman of New Jersey to save him, the Evening Journal says today in a copyrighted story.

The Journal declares that it has learned from an "authoritative source" that Hoffman probably will be permitted to stay Hauptmann's execution, scheduled for next Friday, but that soon after the expiration of the reprieve rival political forces in the state will step in and

Charges by Dr. C. A. Weiss, above, that "in all probability" Senator Huey P. Long was killed by his own bodyguards instead of by Dr. Weiss' son, created a furor throughout Louisiana. In a 700-word letter to Gov. O. K. Allen the elder Dr. Weiss branded statements that his son was the assassin as "political lies and propaganda, uttered for political purposes." Governor Allen refused to comment except to say that "listen to my speeches and you will hear plenty."

Parley Doomed To Failure If Parity Demands Is Not Withdrawn

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Representing virtual abandonment of all hope by this government of a new naval disarmament agreement at the present time, in view of Japan's adamant demand for parity, Secretary of State Cordell Hull today announced that Undersecretary of State William Phillips, a leading member of the American delegation to the London naval conference, would sail for home on January 16.

Hull said Phillips' departure would be in accord with his original intention to remain in London only a few weeks.

However, it was conceded in authoritative quarters that if there was any possibility of getting an early satisfactory agreement, Phillips would have remained in London.

Hull's statement that Phillips had intended to sail at this time anyway, was viewed as an effort to avoid any impression that he was walking out on the conference.

Spiritual Advisor Says Bruno Is Not Breaking

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 11.—Facing death in the electric chair within a week, Bruno Richard Hauptmann through his spiritual adviser, the Rev. John Matthiesen, staunchly maintains his complete innocence of the Lindbergh baby kidnapping crime.

Hauptmann, who is scheduled to walk "the last mile" next Friday night, is showing no signs of "breaking." By the exercise of self discipline he is keeping calm and composed. He is finding the utmost solace in reading the Bible.

"Not for a million dollars" could he make a confession for—as he insists—he "has nothing to confess." The Rev. Matthiesen, closest man to Hauptmann, today in the first interview he has given, told International News Service what the doomed man has been saying to him during the 15 visits the minister has paid Hauptmann in the death cell in the New Jersey state prison.

Hauptmann said to the minister the last time they talked:

"I have no bitterness in my heart against Attorney General Wilentz, Colonel Lindbergh, Dr. Condon or any of the witnesses who testified against me in the trial."

The Rev. Matthiesen, a gentle, refined-looking man of 53, rather bald and gray, is pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church in Trenton, he said when he first became Hauptmann's spiritual adviser he had an open mind on the famous case. But, after paying 15 visits to Hauptmann over a period of weeks, he is now fully convinced Hauptmann is innocent.

Seems Winner

Dr. Miguel Mariano Gomez, 45, twice mayor of Havana, and a candidate of the Liberal, Republican and Nationalist coalition, will emerge winner of the race for the presidency of Cuba, it is indicated today. Police and troops guarded the polling places as violence flared in the first general election in nearly 12 years. Women went to the polls for the first time in Cuba's history. Opponents of the military dictatorship said the election was a tragic farce, since the right to run was denied to Dr. Grau, "the real choice of the Cuban people."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Although the house flouted President Roosevelt's wishes when it passed the "Unites" Veterans Bonus bill by overwhelming majority, administration leaders today assumed the formidable task of persuading the senate to accept a measure approved by the White House.

This goal was sought in an effort to avoid a presidential veto of the Patman-Vinson-McCormack measure, which the house approved by a vote of 356 to 59. This measure would authorize an immediate $2,000,000,000 cash payment of World War adjusted service certificates without providing any specific means for raising the cash.

Administration leaders insisted the president would veto that bill, despite its endorsement by the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Disabled American (Continued On Page Two)

While admission to the tiny Hollywood chapel will be by card only, police have announced they will detail a special guard to the services to prevent any outbreak of maudlin grief such as marked the passing of the screen's last great lover, Rudolph Valentino.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 11.—Governor Harold G. Hoffman today dropped a bombshell in the renewed Lindbergh baby murder investigation when he declared that he will issue orders to have Dr. John F. "Jafsie" Condon taken into custody as soon as the court of pardons finishes its hearing of Bruno Richard Hauptmann's plea for clemency.

The tenacious little governor, moved to cold anger when he learned that Condon had slipped out of the country last night on a Panama-bound steamship, disclosed his intention a few minutes before the court convened. He had intended to question the famous ransom intermediary and star state witness at the hearing today.

The governor made his announcement through his press secretary, William S. Conklin.

To Take Dr. Condon Into Custody
"The governor says he will issue orders for the law enforcement agencies to take Dr. Condon into custody regardless of the outcome of this hearing on Hauptmann's plea," Conklin said.

"He will order that Condon be taken into custody," Conklin said.

ALLEGED COERCION AGAINST VOTERS

HAVANA, Jan. 11. — Cuba faced a new period of strife today as the growing majority of Dr. Miguel Mariano Gomez in the presidential election brought bitter opposition charges that coercion had been employed in three provinces.

Dr. Gomez's election was regarded as certain on the basis of returns from 235 of about 2000 precincts. Dr. Gomez, coalition candidate, polled 26,264; General Mario Menocal Democrat, 10,103; and Dr. Carlos Manuel De Cespedes, who had withdrawn from the race, 310.

Two persons were killed, three were several minor riots and numerous arrests; nevertheless, the election, in which women took part for the first time, was regarded as orderly in comparison to the bloody political disturbances that have split Cuba for years.

Refusing to concede the election of Dr. Gomez, however, however, supporters of Gen. Menocal protested to Col. Fulgencio Batista, military "dictator," and to provisional president Jose Barnet, demanding that the election be held over again in Camaguey, Pinar Del Rio, and Havana provinces.

The two deaths occurred in Camaguey city when voters, too late to cast their ballots, started a riot and soldiers fired into the crowd.

that the "Fred" to whom she refers, is the son of herself and the doctor, and the man who has written the letter from Saskatchewan.

Relatives Sought
Following the death of Miss Taylor efforts were made to locate relatives in the west and a letter was sent to the clerk of courts at Keosauqua, Iowa. In response an attorney at that place, R. J. Harwood, by name, sent the following letter to Frank P. Hunter, 720 Cunningham avenue, New Castle: "Dear Sir:—The clerk of courts has turned over to me a letter dated Nov. 22, 1935, carrying your signature and addressed to the judge of the court of this county. I know of Dr. Frederick John Taylor and his family. The doctor is now dead, leaving his only heir, one Frederick Taylor, whose exact whereabouts is not known to me at present, but will be shortly through a mutual friend. Please explain your letter more fully to me as to what you want of said Dr. Taylor, and by that time I may be in contact with the son."

In the meantime Attorney Reynolds sent to G. B. Reutzel, clerk of the district court of VanBuren county, Iowa, to see if he could get a death certificate of Dr. Taylor. The clerk replied: "Inclosed please find a certified copy of death certificate. Attorney Harwood is not in town at present, but since the Dr. Taylor died before Harwood was born, he would not be able to give you any information from personal knowledge. This might be secured at Sharon, Lee county, Iowa, where the doctor was buried. This is about thirty miles from here and there may be some of the old residents there who knew him."

Death Certificate.
The death certificate which was sent Attorney Reynolds reads: "Name—John Taylor, aged 80 years, 4 months and 17 days. Date of death, Nov. 17th, 1935. Married. Born Westmoreland county, Pa. Place of death, Farmington, Iowa, cause, cancer. Buried, Sharon, Lee county."

It will be noted in the above certificate that "Westmoreland county, Pa. is named. As there is no such county in the state it is believed that Westmoreland county was meant. This certificate is believed to have been for Dr. Frederick John Taylor, but why the first name should have been omitted, is not known. Taken in connection with the letter written by his widow in which she informs the Taylors that she is not a "grandmother," it appears that the man who was buried at Sharon was Dr. Frederick John Taylor, first husband of Miss Mary Taylor, whose estate is being settled. However further investigations are in progress.

MAKALE RETAKEN ETHIOPIANS SAY

The Italian government in its daily military communique today announced Ethiopian troops had been defeated and forced to retreat after intense aerial and artillery bombardment just south of the city.

"Yesterday our Italian and Eritrean detachments attacked a strong enemy force which had taken up a position near the confluence of the Gabat and Gheva rivers," said the communique. "The action which occurred with co-operation of the artillery and aircraft, ended with retreat of the enemy with our troops in pursuit."

"The Ethiopians sustained heavy losses. On our side one Eritrean non-commissioned officer and two Askaris were killed, and three officers, two Eritrean non-commissioned officers, and three Askaris were wounded."

"The aircraft was active on the whole front. Dedjasmach Gussa, in co-operation with our political authorities of Tigre Province, has completed enrollment of his armed men in infantry detachments which already have been employed on the front and in detachments of police stationed in the occupied territory."

Ras Gussa deserted Ethiopia to join the Italian forces soon after outbreak of the war.

BELIEVE NAVAL AGREEMENT PLAN NOW IMPOSSIBLE

of Japan's refusal to discuss any naval limitation or disarmament proposals unless the United States and Great Britain first agreed to recognize Japan's right to possess a navy fully as powerful as either the American or British fleet.

Both the American and Japanese delegations have been known to be desirous of leaving for their respective homes, but none of the delegations heretofore has been willing to make the first move for fear they would be shouldered with responsibility for the breakdown of the conference.

The original announcement that Phillips would spend only a few weeks in London was viewed, however, as giving a logical opportunity for him to leave.

In connection with reports that the conference might not carry on without the Japanese, Secretary Hull said he had not been informed by American Ambassador Nomura H. Davis, chief of the American delegation, of any such proposals being put forward.

Unless the Japanese relent in their demand for recognition of parity as a prerequisite for any discussion of a new agreement, it was considered likely here that the conference will break up within the next few days.

Announcement was made today that the monthly meeting of the Croton Progressive club, scheduled for Sunday, has been postponed until Sunday, January 19.

taken into custody and questioned on the many discrepancies in his statements on the Lindbergh crime. He will not issue the order, however, until the conclusion of this hearing.

As the governor's sensational announcement was being made, Dr. Condon, accompanied by his pretty daughter, Myra Hacker, was somewhere on the Atlantic on the S. S. Santa Rita, bound for Latin America ports. His first stop will be at Panama next Friday, the day scheduled for Hauptmann's execution.

Court Assembles

The court of eight members, headed by Hoffman, assembled in the governor's office after 10:30 a. m. because of the number of state and defense attorneys, however, the hearing was moved to the ornate chambers of the court of errors and appeals.

It was in this courtroom that Hauptmann's first appeal from conviction was rejected. The court went into session behind locked doors at about 11 a. m. As they did so, Conklin announced that Hauptmann had withdrawn his appeal to appear in person to plead for his life.

At the last minute a message from Hauptmann's spiritual adviser, the Rev. John Matthews, begging mercy for the doomed man, was sent into the room.

Crowds Mill Around

Crowds milled around the state house throughout the morning as members of the court and attorneys filed into the building. Photographers' flash bulbs popped in the corridors and movie cameras ground from every vantage point.

Attorney General David T. Wilentz and Hunterdon County Prosecutor Anthony M. Hauck, who prosecuted Hauptmann at the trial, went into the chambers as did all three defense lawyers, C. Lloyd Fisher, Egbert Rosecrans and Frederick A. Pope.

Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, head of the New Jersey state troops, who was in charge of the Lindbergh investigation, and Colonel Mark O. Kimberling, principal keeper of the state prison, also went into the hearing.

The court can grant Hauptmann's request for a commutation of sentence to life imprisonment by a majority vote (at least 5 to 3), including the governor's vote, or it can doom him to the chair. It is Hauptmann's last court of appeal.

May Grant Reprieve

However, the court in this case will "adjourn," recommending a brief reprieve to allow time to complete certain investigations, a trusted aid of the governor predicted to International News Service.

If this works out Hauptmann will not go to the chair Friday night as scheduled.

After the reprieve has expired, possibly 20 or 30 days from now, the vote will be taken that will decide Hauptmann's fate, the governor's aid said.

Just before the court and lawyers went into session the kidnap ladder, swathed in brown wrapping paper, was carried into the courtroom by a state trooper.

Other evidence, including hand-writing exhibits used at the trial, and the chisel which was found under the Lindbergh nursery window... the murder weapon, Wilentz charged at the trial... were also taken into the chambers.

In his letter to the court, Hauptmann's spiritual adviser indirectly attacked Edward J. Reilly, chief of Hauptmann's trial counsel. Matthews wrote: "I have had 15 very intimate and soul-reaching interviews with Bruno Richard Hauptmann and am convinced that he tells the truth."

"If Hauptmann would have had a reliable defense lawyer at the outset, and if he would have asked for an interpreter during the trial, the very evidence used against him should have spoken in his favor. Hauptmann felt no need for them until it was too late."

Gov. Hoffman is president of the court of pardons. The other members who filed through the movie Klieg lights in the corridors and on into the courtroom were: Chancellor Luther A. Campbell, George Van Buskirk, Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., Joseph A. Dear, Harold B. Wells, John J. Rafferty and William E. Wolfke.

The latter six are lay judges of the court of errors and appeals. Campbell is also a member of the court of errors and appeals which last fall rejected Hauptmann's appeal from conviction.

Rafferty and Wolfke did not pass on Hauptmann's appeal, as they were not at that time members of the court.

Questioned by the operatives before he was arraigned, the unkempt Italian didn't have much to say. He smiled and joked with the officers as he sat down to be "mugged" once again for the "rogues gallery."

Through the usual ceremony of a suspected criminal Phillips remained nonchalant. Phillips was found on the Darlington township farm allegedly belonging to Patrick Baker. Who Patrick Baker was, operatives told International News Service, had not as yet been ascertained, but that new arrests were expected in a few days.

Unable to post $2,500 bond, Phillips was turned over to the United States marshal, who in turn committed the suspect to the Allegheny jail here until, and if, bond is obtained.

Dewey Avenue Free Methodist Church Is Having Revival

Revival Services Continue Sunday And Through Next Week

Revival services continue this Sunday and throughout next week at the Dewey Avenue Free Methodist church. Increasing interest has been manifest throughout the past week. Delegations from Arlington, Ellwood City, Coaltown, Sharon and Sharpsville churches have brought assistance musically and otherwise. A special feature that proved especially enriching was an Italian service Tuesday evening, under the direction of leading Italians from the Beaver Valley. Wednesday night was possibly the most fruitful and inspiring evening service held. Afternoon prayer meetings have proven rich in fellowship and interest.

Rev. Mabel Hicks, field secretary for young people's work and evangelist, has been the speaker for these services. Miss Hicks has traveled thousands of miles throughout the entire eastern and mid-western portions of the country and has a living picture of the great work of God in the hearts of men.

A full day will be given to the presenting on Sunday, vital Christian Truth beginning with a graphic object lesson sermon on the nature of the human heart on the Sunday school hour.

BONUS BILL IS UP TO SENATE

Veterans. They said the president would approve a bill calling for issuance of new "Baby Bonds" to the soldiers in lieu of their bonus certificates. These bonds would be interest-bearing and redeemable at some future date but could be cashed at their "face value" at any bank.

Senators "On Spot"

Three administration stalwarts—Senators Joe T. Robinson of Arkansas, Pat Harrison of Mississippi, and James F. Byrnes of South Carolina—were leading the compromise move. All are up for re-election this year. It was no secret they desire to vote for a bonus bill but do not wish to vote against a presidential veto.

Robinson, as Democratic leader of the senate, Harrison as chairman of its powerful finance committee, and Byrnes as the president's confidential spokesman, have exerted tremendous influence on the senate in the last three years. Nevertheless, observers were reluctant to predict a victory for them in the senate.

With the veterans' organizations behind a single bill, indications were the senate would follow the house's course and approve the Vinson-Patman-McCormack measure. In that event, observers agreed the house would over-ride a veto but the result in the senate would be shaded with doubt.

DISCORD MARS CONFERENCE ON FARM PROBLEMS

PROMINENT RESIDENT PASSES 80TH BIRTHDAY

A notable event of Friday, January 10, was a celebration honoring the 80th birthday of Mrs. J. C. Wimer, Sr., which took place in the evening, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Shanafelt, on West Madison avenue.

Members of her family and a few close friends to the number of 27, gathered as a surprise to the honoree at an early hour, and after extending happy greetings and beautiful gifts, they spent the time enjoyably with games and music. The latter was contributed by Jean and Clarence Wimer, playing and singing.

A delightful lunch was served by the daughters-in-law, one of these, Mrs. F. A. Wimer, who was here from Clarion, Pa., providing the large cake which she herself baked. It was attractively decorated with the figure 80 outlined in colored icing, to correspond with pink and white appointments. Fresh cut flowers accented the color scheme, being among many gifts received by Mrs. Wimer during the day.

Other gifts included money, scores of greeting cards many coming from friends in the Epworth M. E. church where the guest of honor has been a prominent member throughout her long life, and other personal remembrances. The day was most happily spent and will long linger among treasured memories for all the guests.

Mrs. Wimer is the mother of five children all of whom are well known and prominently identified with New Castle and Clarion, Pa. activities. These include Charles A. John, Jr., Earl R. Wimer and Mrs. W. C. Shanafelt, of New Castle and Rev. P. A. Wimer, of Clarion. Another son, Clarence E. Wimer, passed into the Great Beyond in 1915. There are 14 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Four years ago, in 1932, Mr. and Mrs. Wimer celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, which was another delightful occasion. Mrs. Wimer's maiden name was Mary Ellen Mayberry. Among the guests present last night, were several of her brothers and sisters and their families, including Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mayberry, daughter, Mrs. Thomas Edmunds, Charles and James Mayberry, Mrs. S. A. Leiby and daughter, Mrs. Pearl Leiby.

Mr. Wimer was connected for a long period of years, with the A. S. and T. company in this city, but was retired sometime ago.

RUSSIAN COUNTESS AT WOMAN'S CLUB

IRINA SKARIATINA
(Countess Kellner)
Author and Lecturer.

Woman's club members have a special program Monday afternoon, when Countess Irina Skariatina will speak in the main auditorium of Highland U. P. church on the subject, "Russia of Yesterday and Today." The hour of the meeting is 2 o'clock. Executive board at 1:30.

Countess Skariatina (now Mrs. Victor Blakeslee) was born in St. Petersburg, Russia. As the daughter of a wealthy and noble family, she was reared carefully, growing up in the last days of the Romanovs. Her mother was a Princess in her own right, and her father a general in the Imperial army.

The Revolution swept her world away, parents killed and she herself imprisoned and sentenced to death. She escaped to America where she married a young naval officer, Victor Blakeslee.

After 10 years in America, she was free to go home which she did, but to a home so different from the one she left in 1922, that her impressions of the new country, in contrast to the Russia of the aristocrats, form a most interesting lecture subject.

The church is located at the corner of North Mill and East Falls streets. As a result of the reports over the radio and in some newspapers, many have asked this question of Mr. Pearson. In fairness he thinks it ought to be answered in such a way that anyone of any religious faith may hear the statement. He will show how the report became current, or the source of it; what it means for the present and the future, and will discuss certain phases of the problem of Christian unity. As he is chairman of the committee on Christian unity of the Diocese of Erie, and thus makes an annual statement at the regular Diocesan convention, Mr. Pearson is in a position of advantage to have sources of special information on this important present day subject.

AROUND CITY HALL

Mayor Charles E. McGeath informed colleagues during council meeting Friday afternoon the WPA has offered to furnish traffic men to prevent sledding accidents. He declared the WPA said 42 men were available. However, before the men can be put on such a project the city must ask the WPA to approve the project. No decision was made by council.

Joseph D. Alexander, purchasing agent for the city, informed colleagues yesterday that unless the city makes a new appropriation he will not purchase any more materials for WPA projects. It was explained, there now is sufficient money to pay outstanding bills but no provision has been made to pay for 1936 projects. Solicitor Robert White will prepare an ordinance appropriating money from delinquent tax sources to pay for materials, it was explained.

Because council refused Friday to approve a bond in the amount of $30,000, by the new treasurer, C. C. McKibben, the old treasurer, Louis McClung will continue to collect 1935 taxes until a bond satisfactory to council is received. McClung has not yet been released from his obligation according to Solicitor Robert White. Under the law the treasurer is compelled by law to provide security for city funds satisfactory to council. Mayor Charles McGeath and colleagues yesterday took the position that the bond offered does not guarantee the collection of duplicates on the treasurer's books and in fact, they added, guarantees nothing but his fidelity for a year. As the city was asked to pay a premium of about $2,000, on the bond, they ordered advertisements taken for a bond to protect the city funds.

Russian Countess Is College Speaker

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 11.—Russian nobility of the "old order" will visit Westminster college campus Monday

My New York

By James Aswell

NEW YORK, Jan. 11. — The Goldfish Bowl: George Bernard Shaw's notepaper bears a map with instructions for reaching the writer's home in the country near London. ... Success Story: Dante Dianda began raising a queer thick-leaved plant when he arrived in California from Italy 30 years ago, and he insisted the things were good to eat. ... They were artichokes, unknown here before that, and he has made a million out of the industry since. ... But in New York the vegetable has been made a source of racketeering activity, so that Mayor LaGuardia suspended dealing in it for a time. ... The oddest sight in town was that First Avenue huckster wagon from which bootleg artichokes were shipped to shopping chauffeurs from Park Avenue at fancy prices while the ban was in force. ...

Stitch McCarthy, the "mayor" of C and Street, remains a perennial character, forever bouncing in and out of court to testify for friends or get them out of trouble. ... Head of one of the strangest clubs in the world—the organization of "locality mayors," who are elected by acclamation and self-styling rather than votes—he used to be a bail bondsman but has recently entered the insurance business. ... Stitch—real name, Samuel Rothberg—has a quick, dry wit and is able to talk back to judges and justices with more sauciness and less risk of contempt proceedings than anybody in town. ... He sails about the lower East Side in a large chauffeur-driven car, dispensing mysterious charities and talking in an idiom so racy and slangistic that it defies reduction to print. ...

Jean Hersholt, who is the papa of four, got as balled up in his efforts to dress the Dionne quins in their movie "The Country Doctor," that the scene had to be retaken. ... Dorothy Peterson, who has never had any offspring of her own, performed the same office expertly; she got her experience in 100 mother roles. ... I had four G-men pointed out to me at Jack Dempsey's hashery the other night—the agents have adopted the jern for off-duty relaxing. ... Or maybe they were working on case; there were several movie stars around, and the lens strutters are currently obsessed with kidnapping fidgets. ...

Jerry Cooper, the caroler, has had the shoes which he wore out and reinforced with cardboard tramping Broadway in early job-hunts dipped in gilt and enshrined in his N. Y. digs. ... George Padewski, who pumps jazznotes out of an accordion at a local bistro, had his musical career financed by Cousin Ignatz, the luminous Polish statesman and pianist. ... But when George switched to the swing stuff his famous cousin withdrew support indignantly. ... For which George confides he's sorry, but now he eats regularly. ... Joe Cook's Xmas greeting card was a full-size reproduction of his home-town newspaper in Evansville, Ind., with the cheery words as ads on inside pages. ...

Frank Buck, the San Angelo, Texas, boy, who decided cow-punching was too tame and went to the Orient to punch elephants for zoos and be punched by baboons. ... There were 15 full-blooded Mohawk and Cherokee Indians at the opening of "Annie Oakley" at the Astor the other night. ... Incidentally, you probably already know that passes to the theater are called "Annie Oakleys" because they are punched—as if Annie had drilled them with a .45 at fifty yards. ... George White, the "Scandals" entrepreneur, is ambitious to remain a bachelor the rest of his life—but admits it will require luck. ...

End-piece: Milton Berle, the comic, once answered an ad for a young man capable of making quick decisions. He found the job open, but told his prospective boss that he would require two weeks to think over the proposition. So he became a comedian full-time.

Westwood Trial Is To Begin On Monday, Jan. 13

An Ominous Date To Superstitious But "Dapper Jimmy" Is Not Afraid

'SQUIRE IS CHARGED WITH KILLING WIFE

By SYDNEY H. EIGES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 11.—On Monday, January 13, an ominous date to the superstitious, Dapper Jimmy Westwood, the McKees Rocks squire, is to go on trial for his life in Allegheny county criminal court for the mysterious slaying of his wife, Martha, last July 10.

Still maintaining his characteristic imperturbable calm, Westwood believes the jury he faces on that fateful day will find him innocent of the strange slaying of his wife, a crime that has become one of the most baffling mysteries in Allegheny county police annals.

Wax Molds Figure
But District Attorney Andrew T. Park will seek to prove by wax molds taken of the squire's hands a few hours after the slaying that it was Westwood who stood at the window of a second floor bedroom and sent three bullets into the woman's body as she lay asleep about 2 o'clock in the morning. For the first time in the history of Allegheny county, and perhaps in the eastern section of the country, the commonwealth will attempt to introduce the strange wax molds into evidence.

Defense attorneys M. Barney Cohen and William H. Coleman who examined the wax molds after obtaining a court order are prepared to battle every inch of the way against introduction of the paraffin prints as evidence. Not only would their introduction be unprecedented legal procedure, they contend, but the molds themselves prove nothing. They maintain, according to chemists, are supposed to detect the presence of nitrates on the hands, nitrates that might be left there by explosion of a revolver. But the defense maintains that striking a match while the hands are damp might produce the same result.

Accomplice Alleged

Westwood's friend and constable, Tim Drexler, has been indicted as an accomplice in the slaying. Westwood accompanied Drexler on a gay roadhouse party the night of the slaying, according to the commonwealth theory. While the party was at its height, the commonwealth charges, Westwood slipped away, drove furiously to his home in the McKees Rocks "bottoms," and killed his comely wife as she slept.

Meanwhile, because of a strange train of deaths that have removed many of the principals in the case, County Detectives maintained a day and night guard over Mrs. Sophie Sehar, the commonwealth's chief witness. Since last August when George Matuza, another key witness, was crushed to death mysteriously between the jaws of a huge machine he had operated without accident for years in a steel mill, Mrs. Sehar has been protected by an armed detective for more than 3,000 continuous hours this guard has been maintained.

At the inquest into Mrs. Westwood's death, F. C. Buckmaster, county chemist, testified the wax molds pointed to Westwood as the author of the slaying. Scoring the merits of the mold tests, defense attorneys scored a victory in obtaining court permission to examine them prior to the trial.

Strange Coincidence

In one of the many strange coincidences which have characterized the slaying, wax molds tests were made of the hands of Walter Monaghan, ace county sleuth and close friend of Westwood. In fact, it was Monaghan who later arrested Westwood on a charge of murder, and lodged him in jail. Westwood and Monaghan were to have gone on a fishing trip on the morning of Mrs. Westwood's death. Within an hour of the slaying, Monaghan, Westwood and Drexler arrived together at the McKees Rocks police station. Wax molds made of the hands of Monaghan and Drexler were stainless, according to Buckmaster.

Still to be explained is a gun found abandoned under a bridge little more than a block from the McKees Rocks apartment where Mrs. Westwood was killed. Although the gun was the same caliber as that which killed Mrs. Westwood and had three empty chambers, the same number of bullets fired into Mrs. Westwood's body, District Attorney Park described it as a "plant."

Children Believe In Father

No matter what the public may think of their father who has remained in jail since his arrest,

Westwood's three children believe implicitly in his innocence and have never wavered a moment in their support. There is Jimmy, the seven-year-old, Martha Marie, 12, and Bertha, 20, the housekeeper and "mother" of the tragedy-stricken family.

Their sister, Clara, 14, a public school pupil, died mysteriously of gun shot wounds more than a year ago. A coroner's jury pronounced death accidental.

Soon afterwards, tragedy again cast its shadow over the Westwood family when the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Winkler, were shot to death. Winkler killed his wife and then ended his own life, police decided. Comely Martha Westwood was the next victim, shot to death in a temporary flat the Westwoods had taken while their home, wrecked by a mysterious explosion, was being remodeled.

The children are certain their father will come home, because in his last letter he told them: "I am anxiously awaiting the thirteenth of January as that is the day of my trial and I am sure that any jury they choose will see that I am innocent and send me back to you."

Seek Bodies Of Four Derelicts Result Of Plot

Insurance Plot Is Gruesome One, Four Men Are Held In Jail

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11.—Hampered by legal entanglements, police today closely guarded the "house of missing men", awaiting an opportunity lawfully to dig up the cellar of the residence in which a number of human derelicts took shelter shortly before they died or disappeared.

The house is the south Philadelphia home of Adam Ambrose, 45, a sugar refinery worker, who allegedly has confessed to slaying Joseph Guanabuci, 42, a friendless hobo, and burying his body in the sand dunes at Townsend's Inlet, N. J. Guanabuci was killed, police claim, after he had been the "proxy corpse" for another man.

Almost every 12 months in the last 11 years a friendless roomer has either died in Ambrose's home here or has dropped from sight, detectives revealed. Six are known to be dead. No one knows what happened to the other four.

Ambrose, police said, is known to have had insurance policies on "at least several", and purportedly collected $13,841 on three of the dead men, who named him as their beneficiaries.

Beneath the dirt cellar of the "house of missing men" detectives believe they may uncover the bodies of "other victims", but at present they are prevented from excavating by legal barriers established by Ambrose's counsel.

Meanwhile Ambrose and his three sons, Bruno, 21; Felix, 20, and Joseph, 18, are imprisoned at Cape May courthouse, N. J.

Acknowledges Contributions To Rogers Fund

SAY SHOWING WAS SPLENDID

Fred L. Rentz, president of The News Company, who was chairman of the Will Rogers Memorial Fund committee for the New Castle Community, has received a letter of acknowledgement and thanks from John W. Ellwood, assistant to the director of the Will Rogers Memorial Commission, for the contribution which was sent in by Mr. Rentz for the donors from this city.

The text of the letter follows: "This is to acknowledge receipt of your check for $70 to cover contributions to the Will Rogers Memorial Fund, as listed on your subscription blank."

"This is a splendid showing, and, on behalf of the Will Rogers Memorial Commission, we wish to thank you for your generous co-operation."

In commenting on the local contributions, which were entirely voluntary, Mr. Rentz stated that the donations made by New Castle people ran from ten cents to $8.75, the latter contribution being given to make the amount an even $70. There were quite a number of contributors, which was what the national committee had in mind, that the Memorial erected to the memory of the late humorist would be on truly representative of the majority of the people.

East Brook Hi Trims Wampum By Score 47-38

East Brook High Takes Possession Of Lead In Section 22

HALL AND FLUMER ARE HIGH SCORERS

East Brook High School basketball team declared itself in the thick of the fight for the Section 22 and the Lawrence County high school championship race this year, by handing the fast Wampum High quintet a 47 to 38 defeat last night, at the East Brook High floor. It was the second victory in Section 22 for the Emmersmen.

The East Brook team led in every period of the game, and were it not for the fact that many of the regulars had left the game in the fourth period, the score would have been much bigger. At the end of the third period, the Emmersmen coached machine led 37 to 17. Flumer ran wild in the final period to cage the ball five times for the Emmersmen.

Almost before the echo of the opening whistle had died away George Hall the star East Brook guard flipped one through the hoops, that gave the Hickory Township boys the lead never to be in danger. The end of the first period it was 13 to 7 in favor of East Brook. East Brook lost the services of Kuth in the second period on four personal fouls, but before his departure, the lead was in the first half of the game. He played a great defensive game also.

24 To 12 At Half
The end of the first half found the East Brook team leading 24 to 12. Flumer and McBride led the Wampum in scoring in the first half of the game.

East Brook started right in at the third period where they had left off and soon had a commanding lead. The end of the third session found East Brook leading 37 to 17. In the fourth and final period Kendall was forced out on personal fouls. Coach Emrick used Newman, E. Shuler, Hood, and Kline as subs in the fourth period. Jim Finnegan played a fine game at guard before being replaced by Bob Waddington.

Flumer Starts
In the last five minutes of the game East Brook led 45 to 25, and then Flumer, the Wampum ace, started to score them with rapidity. Scala had a busy night at the four line making 6 out of 8 tries. Flumer made 4 out of 6 tries. The Wampum team made almost as many fouls as they did field goals.

It was the first setback for Wampum in Section 22 or the County League race. The Emmersmen having defeated Bessemer and Shenandoah in previous starts. East Brook has defeated Bessemer and Wampum in the Section 22 league.

A crowd that packed the East Brook High gym witnessed the game. The Wampum team had a big delegation of fans on hand for the game.

Charles "Bub" Jones handed the game as referee and turned in a swell job.

Big Leagues To Open On April 14

Pittsburgh Pirates Will Open Up With Cincinnati This Year

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—The National and American baseball leagues will open the 1936 season April 14, according to schedule arrangements announced today.

Instead of the customary four game initial series, only three games will be played, permitting openings in the other half of the leagues to be staged April 17.

In an effort to speed up movement of the major league teams, four section trips, instead of the usual three, will be made. This measure will keep the teams revolving about the circuit faster, and is expected to build up gate receipts.

The all-star game was awarded to Boston on July 7. The season will end Sept. 27.

The opening game schedule follows: National League: April 14, Brooklyn at New York; Boston at Philadelphia; Pittsburgh at Cincinnati; Chicago at St. Louis.

April 18, St. Louis at Pittsburgh. American League: April 14, St. Louis at Chicago; Detroit at Cleveland; New York at Washington; Philadelphia at Boston.

Mechanicals And Cold Draw Win Games At Shelby

Last Quarter Attack Gives Mechanical Quintet 29-23 Victory Friday

FINISHING NOSES OUT COLD DRAW

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 11.—In two hard fought games in the Shelby League Friday evening the fast Mechanical quintet defeated the Inspection 29-23 and the Finishing nosed out the Cold Draw 21-19 at the Shelby auditorium.

The Inspection who holds the cellar position in the league finally mustered its full line-up for the game and gave the Mechanicals plenty of trouble. The game was close and hard fought throughout. After trailing 7-2 in the initial stanza the Inspection employed a fast attack to knot the score at 13 all at half-time. The Mechanicals led in the ensuing period 20-19 from which time they never lost the lead.

The playing of Arnold, Latiano and Robuck was the highlight in the Mechanical victory. Friedhoff and Rossman were best for the losers.

The Cold Draw which has been losing some tough games could not lose its jinx last night. After outplaying their opponents most of the game they finally wilted late in the final period to lose the game by a margin of two points. The score was 2-2 in the first quarter, 8-8 at the half, 11-9 for the Cold Draw in the third stanza. A fast passing attack in the final chapter netted the Finishing 12 points to the Cold Draw's eight, to give the former a 21-19 victory. Lasso and Ursu were outstanding for the victors while Mayne and Ferucci were best for the Cold Draw.

CLEVER PORTRAYALS DELIGHT AUDIENCE

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 11.—Laughter and prolonged applause of a capacity audience at Lincoln Auditorium Friday evening crowned the presentation of the Senior Class Play, "Growing Pains."

A cast of 18 covered it self with glory with its clever and seemingly natural portrayals. The play was something different in amateur productions here and was unusually true to life. It dealt with the trials and tribulations of a group of people during the trying age of adolescence based around Terry MacIntyre and her brother, George.

The difficulties encountered and the manner in which they were overcome kept the audience in stitches. The selection of the cast and its highly creditable presentation is a distinct credit to Miss Beatrice Brunton, the director.

William Yanko and Miss Joan Beagle as George and Terry MacIntyre respectively portrayed the brother and sister squabbles in such realistic fashion as to cause some coloring amongst the younger folks present. Each discussing the different problem of getting their woman and man and finally the procedure was simply masterful. This was clearly displayed by the response of the audience. Equally doing well was Harry McCurdy and Miss Doris Cable as Professor and Mrs. McIntyre, parents of the two above.

They were driven frantic in their efforts to keep peace in the family and endeavor to solve the problems of the young couple. The Professor's psychological plan of running a family and the mother's own instinctive ideas as a contrast amused the audience as they waited for further developments.

Miss Ruth Haswell as the "heart-slaving" Prudence Darling certainly left no doubts about her ability. She merely had the male population of the neighborhood wrapped around her little finger. She couldn't fail. With her natural beauty and a tender, musical, cooing voice it was a foregone conclusion that it was just a matter of time.

Francis Miller and Carl Zeigler played Brian and Dutch respectively, and clearly displayed what a strain it is to have "woman trouble." But they did not seem to profit much from experience, for they soon began to fall over the heads of a new girl in town. The remainder of the cast also did complete justice to its parts.

The complete cast and business staff for the production was as follows:

Stocks Churned Around As Buying And Profit-Taking Affect Market

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer
NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Stocks were churned over in large volume today with prices highly irregular as conflicting currents of "inflation" buying and heavy profit-taking swept the market.

Motor and oil shares were in demand, but they eased toward the close. Steel shares gave up good-sized gains under persistent realizing. Utilities continued sluggish and pointed lower, as also did tobacco. Building issues were mixed, while the metals surrendered all of their early gains in the late trading and many closed with minus signs.

Although Pennsylvania made a new high, carrier shares trended slightly lower. The oil section was featured by the advance of Standard of New Jersey, Amstar and Standard of California into new high ground. Packard was the most active of the auto shares, rising to a new high as large blocks changed hands.

The rise of leading dollar gold currencies over the dollar parity was mildly disturbing to market sentiment. The inflationary impulse, however, gave cotton a further boost of 75 cents a bale.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—President Roosevelt's Jan. 3 message to congress continues to be the text of most official oratory and unofficial talk in Capitol Hill.

In fact, it generally is accepted as having been the Democratic keynote of the 1936 campaign, already on. Would-be adverse critics of the presidential address confidentially admit that it was wonderfully clever. They would like to be able to attack it unqualifiedly, but very few of them can afford to do so. They accuse the White House tenant of having declared a state of class warfare at home, but they are forced to profess entire agreement with him in all he said in favor of American neutrality in overseas strife. They have no option in this matter because it is so apparent that the chief executive's utterances on the subject were overwhelmingly popular—probably not with prospective profiteers from hostilities abroad, but with most folk.

message do undertake to point out that the president risked trouble for Uncle Sam with the predatory "foreign autocracies", from whose clashing the United States proposes to remain aloof.

However, he calls no names—merely invited those that the shoe might fit to put it on.

Naturally none cares to confess that the shoe fits.

Of course everyone knows that the president meant Italy, at war in Ethiopia; Japan, busy gobbling northern China; and maybe Germany, which certainly is an autocracy, though not engaged in any predatory enterprise just now.

But neither the Italians, the Japanese nor the Germans can very well take outspoken umbrage, asserting, "Obviously President Roosevelt was referring to us."

Some Italian newspapers, indeed, expressed resentment at the message, but not Italian diplomacy. In Japan even the press, as well as the government, has kept silent. In Germany ditto.

The critics, in short, make out a poor case against the message, as in a nationally incendiary. Not many of them make the attempt.

DECLARING PEACE, WAR

There is a distinction, however, between a declaration of neutrality and a declaration of war.

As between the European and the Asiatic powers the message declared neutrality on America's part. It was a declaration in favor of keeping out of such struggles, right or wrong.

As between the New Deal and what the president described as American "business autocracy" it was a declaration of war—by the New Deal.

Folk upon whom war is declared may be expected to fight back.

They were not named in the presidential message, either, any more than were Italy, Japan and Germany, but everyone knows their conspicuous organizations—the National Association of Manufacturers, the United States Chamber of Commerce and the American Liberty League outstandingly; a few minor set-ups besides.

PROMISE OF BITTERNESS

Old world quarrels are unrepresented in congress—or are represented only by a few financial, munition-making and exporting interests.

International neutrality, therefore, is strong.

But domestic "business autocracy", if any, is strongly represented.

As between the New Deal and its foes there is promise of an unusually bitter campaign.

On Court House Hill

County Commissioners will sit as a board of appeals for Neshannock, North Beaver, Perry and Plaingrove townships on next Monday. So far there have been few appeals.

Deputy Sheriff Elmer Taylor reports that sixteen executions have been filed on properties to be sold at the February term of court. This is a little less than half the number sold at the January sale.

Some of the tax liens which have been filed at the prothonotary's office are so small that the filing charges and work necessary to record the liens will amount to more than the taxes. It would seem that persons who own property on which the tax is but a few dollars ought to find some way to pay.

County Commissioner Floyd Cotton was out in the country districts yesterday for the purpose of getting constables to take out bonds as tax collectors. During prosperous times constables were always eager for the job, but since the depression there are a lot of them who must be coaxed into tax collecting. Cotton had about half a dozen visits to make yesterday in widely separated parts of the county.

Sheriff Pritchard has issued an execution on the personal property of William and Mary Stepanov, of Shenango township. It consists of 21 cows, a lot of other live stock and farm machinery. The defendants are making an effort to raise the money due on a couple of notes, and thus present a sale. A school bus belonging to Leslie Leslie, of Wurttemberg and a truck belonging to Lawrence E. Twentier have also been levied upon.

There are now forty inmates in the county jail. Of this number four are women. Most of them are serving short sentences for various offenses.

A charter, granted by the court to the Brunswick club, has been placed on record at the register and recorder's office. The club is organized "for the purpose of providing entertainment and amusement for its members." Directors for the first year are J. M. Marshall, 230 North Walnut street; Peter Stevenson, West Washington Street Extension; Charles W. Haus, 337 East Washington street; Fred Reaher, 429 County Line street, and K. G. Walters, 349 East Washington street.

In the matter of coal orders to families on relief the county commissioners have adopted a policy of dividing the orders up among the different dealers on an equitable basis. Heretofore there has been considerable complaint that some companies and individuals were getting more than others. It is the intention of the present board to make as fair a distribution of the orders as possible. The same rule will apply to the purchase of other supplies.

Most colds start from germ infection and are very contagious. For over 80 years Father John's Medicine has been used as a treatment for colds, coughs due to colds, and bronchial irritations—a positive proof of merit. Recent clinical tests proved that Father John's Medicine shortens the duration of colds in 92% of cases.

As a preliminary step to preparing the 1936 budget the county commissioners have secured from County Controller, Frank W. Hill, a copy of the recommendations for the last year's budget and also the amounts which were appropriated for the various departments. Some of the departments are likely to require about the same amount of money this year, others more and others less, according to conditions. In the latter of the bonded debt last year's appropriations for interest was $33,455, and for bond redemption, $118,000. The debt was cut down during the year so that it will not take that much money this year. As the number of cases on the county relief rolls have been increasing, it is likely that it will take more money in 1936 than it did in 1935.

Among some of the appropriations for the general fund in 1935 were: elections, $5300; primaries, $5200; jurors, $12,500; court attaches, $11,500; witnesses, quarter session court, $2700; Justices of the Peace and constables costs, quarter sessions court, $7,000; county bridges, $6,000; penal institutions, $35,750; soldiers burials, $5800; commonwealth costs, $14,450; law library, $2300; court house maintenance, $16,800; jail account, $5500; official bonds, $5,000; juvenile probation office, $19,250; district attorney's office, $10,000; vital statistics, $1300; mothers assistance, $25,000; viewings and burials, $1500; judges' office, $1400; sheriff's office, $15,500; register and recorder, $10,500; prothonotary's office, $10,600; controller, $6,200; commissioners, $24,500; treasurer's office, $12,500; departments of printing stationery and advertising, $11,300; appropriations, $3,600. There was also an appropriation of $12,000 for Federal projects of which very little was spent.

Area Head Reports Survey Beginning Here Ahead Of Other Counties

Lawrence county's enumerators for the government's census of business will make their first definite contacts with business on Monday, District Supervisor Ralph T. Jordan announced today.

Area Supervisor Grant Olson, Pittsburgh, director for the census-taking task in all of Western Pennsylvania, an executive of the government's census bureau since 1929, made an official call at Jordan's office in the Federal building Friday and congratulated the local supervisor on his organization.

Lawrence county is the first county in my territory to have a completely-organized staff of enumerators," Mr. Olson said. "The work here is starting ahead of many other districts."

Jordan's office here will maintain direct supervision over the census in Butler and Beaver counties as well as Lawrence. Enumerator staffs in those counties will be organized soon.
